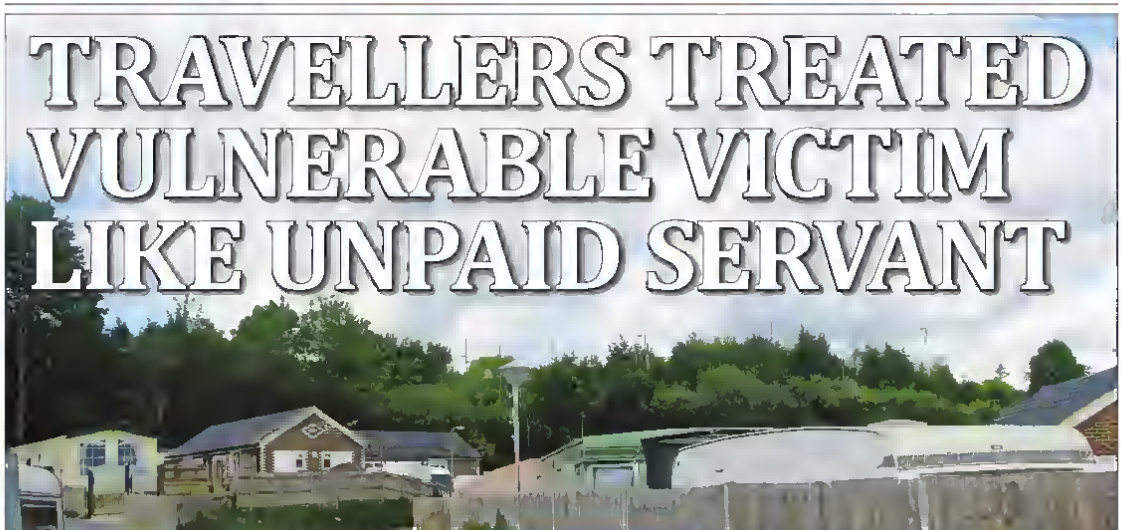
TRAVELLERS TREATED VULNERABLE VICTIM LIKE UNPAID SERVANT



• Paul Joyce, 33

A JUDGE said he was staggered that in this day and age a mentally impaired victim was treated as an unpaid servant by travellers on an Oxford caravan site

Judge Ian Pringle QC sentenced three travellers from Redbridge Hollow caravan site in South Oxford (pictured) for their part in the 22-month ordeal at Oxford Crown Court on Monday

Victim Daniel Collins 27 was attacked when he tried to leave the caravan site, threatened and denied about £20 950 in wages and benefits

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@tigfornewspapers.co.uk

he was entitled to

Mr Collins escaped after secretly planning for his own 'spoof' arrest with police during a raid on the caravan site in November 2013

He told officers 'It was terrible I just didn't want do it

'Basically they were just forcing me. They just said you are doing this you work for us now

'They said stop being like an innocent boy and do what we tell you to do, you are not going to run away from us'

Mr Collins was tempted into forced labour by offers of food drink and a place to sleep

Between January 2012 and November 2013 at both Redbridge Hollow and a caravan site in Hemel Hempstead Mr Collins was forced to work unpaid and threatened and intimidated to commit crimes such as shoplifting

Judge Ian Pringle QC told the group. "Yes, you will say he had food and a roof over his head but so what?

"You treated him as if he was your servant

It is staggering to think that in 2015 that this behaviour is still continuing."

Judge Pringle jailed 33 year-old Paul Joyce for 34 months and gave wife Helen Cash 31 a two year suspended prison sentence.

The couple who have three children, lived at Redbridge Hollow but have since moved to Ver Meadows caravan site in St Albans, Hertfordshire

Duchess unveils two Churchill memorials

THE Duchess of Cornwall was the guest of honour at two memorial events in West Oxfordshire on Tuesday to mark the 50th anniversary of the death of Sir Winston Churchill.

Camilla unveiled a new stained glass window at St Martin's Church in Bladon near Woodstock where Sir Winston is buried – before opening a memorial garden inside the grounds of Blenheim Palace.

By Adam Flinn
adam.flinn@newspapers.co.uk

Hundreds of residents, dignitaries and schoolchildren from Bladon Primary School welcomed the Duchess to the church at around 11.15am.

A short service inside the church followed before Camilla pulled the cover off the new window which features two images of Sir Winston at the bottom.

Robert Courts, who led the committee that came up with the idea for the window said: "Her Royal Highness very much liked the window and we're delighted that the unveiling went so well.

"There was so much support from members of the community and of course the wider Churchill world."

The duchess then laid flowers on Sir Winston's grave before travelling to Blenheim Palace for the opening of the memorial garden.

There she was met by the Duke of Marlborough, his family and Nicholas Soames, grandson of Sir Winston.

In a speech, Sir Nicholas said: "Churchill was himself a keen and expert landscape gardener and would truly have loved this place."

The Duke added: "So many people have contributed to the garden and I thank them all for their hard work in achieving this goal."

Afterwards the Duchess and the Duke unveiled a bust of Sir Winston within the garden, before attending a private ceremony inside the palace.

Adrian Daffern, rector of St Martin's Church who led the services at both events, said: "The two together, the unveiling of the window and the opening of the garden are a very fitting marker of this 50 year moment after Churchill's death."

17-year-old killed in M40 horror smash

A SEVENTEEN-YEAR OLD driver died in a crash between Junction 7 and 8 of the M40 junction on Monday night.

The driver from Maidenhead was driving a black Vauxhall Corsa southbound when it left the motorway at around 7.35pm last night.

The car went down the embankment before coming to a rest in an adjacent field and the driver died at the scene.

Investigating officer PC Alan Turnbull from Thames Valley Police's Bicester unit said: "A young man tragically lost his life in this collision and we would like to speak to anyone who saw this incident so that we can establish exactly what happened."

Police are appealing to anyone with any information about the collision to contact them.

They would also like to speak to the driver of a Jaguar which was seen at or near the scene of the collision.

PC Turnbull added: "I am appealing to anyone who saw the black Vauxhall Corsa before the incident or anyone who saw a Jaguar vehicle at or near the scene to also come forward.

"Any information you might have, no matter how small, may aid our investigation."

Anyone with information is asked to contact police on 101, quoting URN 1449 8/6.

No to big brand stores at West Way, say residents

RESIDENTS want to see the West Way shopping centre in Botley redeveloped but not with large High Street stores, a survey has revealed Campaign group West Way Community Concern published the results of their survey last Thursday, which had asked people what they wanted from a new shopping centre.

Of almost 1,400 responses 89 per cent said they strongly supported small and independent shops coming to the centre as well as other services including banks cafés and a new library

But just 18 per cent were strongly in favour of bigger retail chain store units while only five per cent said they wanted to see a six-screen cinema

Both chain stores and a cinema were in previous £180million

plans to develop the centre, which were turned down by Vale of White Horse District Council in December

Chris Church, co-chair of West Way Community Concern, said, "This survey and vision show how people care very strongly for this neighbourhood

"They recognise that change is coming and most will welcome it, if it meets local needs now and in the future

"But this is a suburb – people don't see the need for massive commercialisation. Botley is not a town centre."

Developers Mace are currently working on new plans to develop the centre, after taking over the project from previous applicants Doric

Huw Griffiths, development director at Mace, said "Mace welcomes the report from West Way Community Concern and believes there is much common ground between all parties

"It was interesting to see in the survey the strong support for partial or full development with 83 per cent of respondents opting for a substantial level of investment and development for the smaller scale site

"Mace look forward to working with West Way Community Concern and the wider community to consider the mix of uses as the consultation progresses."

Mr Griffiths added community workshops and a public exhibition of the plans will be held in the coming weeks

Joyce pleaded guilty to two counts of forced labour, three counts of fraud, and one of common assault after beating up Mr Collins when he tried to escape in his car in November 2012

Cash pleaded guilty to one count of forced labour and three of fraud

Joyce's brother Michael Joyce, 25, of Redbridge Hollow was handed a two-year suspended sentence for one count of forced labour

Alourth man, Ifran Iqbal, 29, of Millfield Walk in Hemel Hampstead, admitted one count of fraud and was ordered to carry out 120 hours unpaid work after having some of Mr Collins's benefits paid into his account.

The convictions come after a police launched Operation Ragua an anti-slavery raid of over 150 officers in Oxford on March 26 – which included the Redbridge Hollow site off Old Abingdon Road.

Thames Valley Police Detective Chief Inspector Mark Glover said "This is the first case of its kind in the Thames Valley and the first successful conviction for forced labour offences

"I would like to commend the victim for his bravery in coming forward."

Adrian Foster, chief crown prosecutor for Thames and Chiltern Crown Prosecution Service said "They used intimidation, threats of violence and actual violence to prevent the victim leaving them or from alerting the authorities to their mistreatment

"They forced him to work very long hours labouring, paving, leafleting, gardening and stealing, failed to pay him for his work and took advantage of his vulnerability."

He added "The offences were financially motivated, allowing the four to live in relative luxury while the victim was provided with the most basic living standards possible."

Charity drops call centres after claims elderly were harassed

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan.c@jpress.co.uk

OXFAM have suspended all operations with two call centres after claims by the Mail on Sunday staff were harassing 90 year-old women' to donate money to the charity

The charity based in Cowley confirmed they have suspended operations with Listen Ltd and Street Academy after claims that the centres used high pressure tactics from its telephone fundraisers to target the elderly sick and poor for donations

The newspaper sent in an undercover reporter to team with Listen Ltd and claims he was told to target very elderly pensioners to harass people for money even if they list excuses and not to delete them from the database if they complained of harassment.

Oxfam s director of fundraising Tim Hunter said "Our supporters generosity is the life-blood of our organisation and we thank the Mail on Sunday for bringing these allegations to our attention.

However the headline in the Mail on Sunday claiming that we target 90 year-olds is factually incorrect

It is against our policy to target vulnerable people"

Oxfam stated that they take the allegations very seriously and in addition to the suspension of their operations with the call centres they will undertake a thorough investigation into the allegations

Mr Hunter added 'Oxfam carries out regular quality checks of fundraising calls on our behalf and insists on high standards of training and monitoring."

He continued. "The support we receive from the public is crucial to our work

"If anyone has any complaints about the activities I urge them to contact us"

Alistair McLean, chief executive of the Fundraising Standards Board which regulates body for charity fundraising in the UK said. "We are deeply concerned about the allegations that the Mail on Sunday has made

He added. It is critical that fundraisers treat the public with respect, openness and honesty at all times."

Dad denies killing 11-week-old son

A DAD accused of murdering his baby son in Faringdon last year has denied the charge at Oxford Crown Court.

Jordon Saxton 21 of Wingate Close in Oxford pleaded not guilty to killing his 11 week old son Jayden last Friday

Saxton was first arrested on suspicion of grievous bodily harm on November 17 after Jayden had collapsed the previous evening at a Faringdon house.

Jayden was taken by ambulance to the Great Western Hospital in Swindon before being transferred to the Bristol Royal Hospital for Children.

He died from his injuries there at 10 30pm on November 10

A post mortem showed that Jayden had died from injuries to his head, and Saxton was charged with murder on March 10 this year

He has been remanded in custody to appear at Oxford Crown Court on September 28 for trial.

Pooh sticks championships draw hundreds to Witney

By Adam Flinn
adam@oxfordmailnewspapers.co.uk

HUNDREDS of people gathered along the River Windrush in Witney on Sunday to compete in the World Pooh Sticks Championships

This was the first year the championships were being held in Witney – taking place at Langel Common having transferred from Little Wittenham last year

The game sees Pooh fans dropping sticks over a bridge then racing them downstream to see whose stick crosses the finish line first.

The World Pooh Sticks Championships have been held in the county for more than 30 years and each year raises more than £3,000 for charity

Richie Gray, one of the organisers of the event, said "It's been mind-blowing, just because of the sheer number of people who are taking part and passing through.

"It's one of those events that seems to capture people's imaginations

"Everyone's heard of Winnie the Pooh and the fact that there is a real life Pooh Sticks championship they just want to take part and see what it's all about."

As well as from across Oxfordshire Pooh fans travelled from around the country and even from abroad to attend the championships

One of those was Deb Hoffman the Guinness World Record holder for the largest Winnie the Pooh collection who flew from Wisconsin in the USA for the event.

• Pooh fans taking part in the championships

With more than 12,000 pieces in her Pooh collection Deb said that taking part in the championships was a lifetime's ambition.

"Ever since I found out there was a world championship Pooh Sticks competition I've been wanting to come," she said

"It's been amazing I didn't know what to expect The atmosphere has been fantastic and I think the coolest thing about it is that there's so many people here

"I have to find a way to come back here every year because it's just been absolutely fantastic and I've got to make this part of my Pooh experience, I love it."

James Smith, 38, a quantity surveyor from Long Hanborough was declared the Pooh Sticks world champion at the end of the event.

Oxford PSPO decision due

A CONTROVERSIAL order that could enforce limits on how long buskers can perform for in Oxford is set to be decided upon by the city council today

The council's Executive Board will decide whether to approve the Public Spaces Protection Order (PSPO) at their meeting in Oxford Town Hall from 5pm

It would give powers to issue fines for a number of anti-social acts including persistent begging, street drinking and busking for more than an hour in one place

Fines of up to £1,000 could be imposed on those breaching the order

The council had previously held a public consultation on the order which led to the removal of rough sleeping from the actions covered

But musicians and street performers staged protests in the city centre last month against the inclusion of busking on the order, which they claimed was too strict

Under the order buskers could only play for up to 60 minutes in one location, although the need for a permit would be removed

No recommendation on whether to approve the order or not has been made by council officers ahead of the meeting.

Oxford man's story of surviving Nepal's devastating quake

A STUDENT from Oxford who was in Nepal when the earthquake struck earlier this year has spoken about the terrifying experience

James Pollard, 21, a former d Overbroeck s College pupil and now a student at Bangor University was in Nepal when the 7.8 magnitude earthquake devastated the country on April 25

He had been in the Himalayas researching altitude sickness as part of a team from Bangor University and was at a hotel in Nepal s capital Kathmandu when the quake hit three hours before he was due to fly home

"Everyone was stunned for a couple of seconds then the hotel manager just shouted "earthquake" and everyone instinctively ran out to the street to get out of the building in case it came down" said James

"It was quite terrifying everyone was screaming and you could hear walls coming crashing down

"We headed off to a volleyball court, which was the biggest outdoor space nearby and there were hundreds of people just crowding in there, to stay away from the buildings"

As all flights were cancelled

By Adam Flinn

adam.flinn@taylornewspapers.co.uk

James and his companions were taken to a Gurkha camp to wait for a plane out of the country and it was there he realised the extent of the devastation.

He continued. "I wasn't really aware until then that it had been such a major earthquake

"It was only when we were on the way to the airport that we could see for ourselves how devastating the earthquake had been with so many buildings and temples down"

More than 8 000 people were killed as a result of the earthquake with many more having lost their homes and possessions

And the research team has put its future expeditions in Nepal on hold but have said they will return to the country again

James added. "It's obvious that Nepal will still need people to go there as the country pretty much survives on tourism so going back there will be a way of helping the country to rebuild after the earthquake

"I very much hope to go back there again on a future research expedition, as it was just such an amazing experience in the Himalayas"

Charity funding

VALE OF WHITE HORSE The district council s chairman Mike Badcock has raised more than £3 500 in fundraising efforts for his two chosen charities over the past year

Cllr Badcock has been raising money for the Royal British Legion and the National Eczema Society in his role as chairman

He presented a cheque for £2 500 to the Royal British Legion last month, as well as donating £1 000 to the National Eczema Society earlier this year

He raised the funds for the charities through a public dinner and events held by council staff such as quizzes and dress down days.

Government funding boost for Bicester

ALMOST £1.5million of government funding has been given to Bicester for the first stage of building 13 000 homes and creating 21 500 jobs under its new Garden Town status

Last December Bicester was awarded Garden Town status by the Department for Communities and Local Government which will see affordable housing, schools and jobs created in the town

And last Friday Cherwell District Council announced it had been given £1 47m by the government for the first stage of the project

Council leader Barry Wood said. "This grant and the awarding of Garden Town status does not change the plans we had for Bicester it simply gives us the funds and capacity to deliver them sooner

It will enable us to ensure the jobs infrastructure and transport provisions are delivered alongside the homes to ensure the current and future residents of Bicester are supported in all aspects of their lives

The 13 000 houses are being delivered in two phases with the first 10 000 due to be built at north west Bicester Graven Hill and south west Bicester by 2031

The remaining 3 000 would be built after that with the jobs and schools as well as new transport links being created throughout

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing misted windows has steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the frames of the front as has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director James Miller feels that it's all about service.

Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window in any type of frame and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money although that obviously helps.

Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a majority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and we then leave as clear as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which in a way is very sad for the service industry as a whole Cloudy2Clear service Oxfordshire now, their local depot as real James is finding, that key approach is a vital factor in his success. The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give James a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Ex-teacher who abused three young boys jailed

By Adam Flinn
adam.flinn@oxfordmagpapers.co.uk

A FORMER teacher who worked at schools in Oxford and Kidlington has been jailed for five years for historic sexual offences on young boys

John Collier 70 of Leafield Road in Cowley was sentenced at Oxford Crown Court last Friday for four counts of indecent assault on three boys aged between seven and 11

The offences took place between September 1971 and July 1975 at North Kidlington Primary School and from September 1977 to July 1978 at St Ebbes First School in Oxford, where Collier worked as a teacher

Investigating officer Det Con Sarah Berry from the Child Abuse Investigation Unit said "I am happy with the sentence handed to Collier for offences which took place more than 40 years ago

"This case came about after a number of victims and other witnesses came to the police with information about Collier and this conviction is wholly due to their compelling evidence and bravery in coming forward.

• John Collier, 70, of Leafield Road in Cowley

"This sentencing also sends a message to offenders that your crimes are not necessarily hurted in the past – you could still face a lengthy sentence"

Collier was first arrested on November 20 2014 following reports by victims to the police and charged with the offences on July 23 last year

He was found guilty by a unanimous jury for three of the counts and by a majority jury for the other count on May 8 after a four-day trial

Adrian Foster chief crown prosecutor for Thames and Chiltern Crown Prosecution Service, said: "As a teacher, John Collier abused his position of trust and took advantage of his status to prey on young boys

"It is only due to the great courage of the victims that the despicable behaviour of this man has been exposed.

"The emotional impact on the victims and their families of the abhorrent actions of this man is impossible to quantify

"I hope that the conviction and sentence gives some small comfort to them."

1,000 free hours of tennis offered to city's players

WITH tennis season in full flow in the UK, Oxford City Council has announced it is opening up the city's courts for 1 000 free hours of tennis for residents to play this month.

With Queens and the Wimbledon Championships taking place during June Oxford players gripped by tennis fever can reserve free courts online across the city

Courts in Alexandra Park Bury Knowle Park, Cuttesloweh Park and Florence Park will be part of the promotion

The city council is working with Oxford based Tennis camp company Premier Tennis for the 'Great Tennis Court Giveaway'

Courtney Warden, the city council's community sports team leader said "Tennis can be overlooked as a fun family activity or a healthy hobby

"That's such a shame given the facilities on offer around the city"

Over 150 tennis players hit the court for the previous free tennis event The Great British Tennis Weekend which was held in Oxford's Florence Park last month

Courtney added "We want to make the courts accessible as possible to encourage lots of people to take tennis up more regularly"

Premier Tennis development manager Joe Cartledge said "We wanted to give people even more reason to try their hand at the sport"

Eager players can reserve free courts online at parkstennis.co.uk/oxford

Plus-size model in Miss England

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@oxfordmailnewspapers.co.uk

A PLUS-SIZE model with dyspraxia has won a place at the Miss England 2015 Final this August

Shirin O'Neil from Headington won the nation's 'popularity queen' title ahead of 10 other girls in a contest at Leicester's Sanctuary Workshops on May 30

The 21-year-old's success means she qualified for this year's Miss England competition.

Shirin took part in a series of interviews walked the catwalk and took part in a photo shoot as she impressed in front of judges which included Miss England 2014 Carina Tyrrell and the competition director Angie Beasley

The model a former dress size 18-20 won over the judges who commended her on her handling of her condition and her determination to succeed in life

Miss O'Neil said after securing her place: "I'm so incredibly excited.

"My experience of education from a very early age was linked to failure frustration and an unspoken belief that everyone else was better than me"

She continued "I couldn't understand why it was so hard for me to complete tasks that others around me managed with what appeared to be no real effort.

"I have problems with reading, writing concentration memory and co-ordination which makes things like learning to drive extremely difficult and upsetting for me."

Shirin entered the competition every year since she was 17 and this is the first time she has got to the national finals

She was also the first plus size model to qualify and will hold her title of popularity queen heading into the competition alongside Miss Oxfordshire candidate Layla Claridge and 30 other girls who will be representing their counties from all over the UK

The final of Miss England is set to take place at the Ricoh Arena in Coventry on August 13 and 14.

Barks of approval for de-stressing

STUDENTS at Oriel and Queen's colleges in Oxford had a 'pawesome' time as they spent the afternoon playing with guide dogs to help them de-stress and raise money for charity

Five dogs from charity Guide Dogs UK visited Oriel College last Friday to play with students currently sitting exams raising £770 for the charity in the process

Jade Tinsley disabilities and equal opportunities rep at the college organised the event

She said: "I'd seen that other universities had done similar schemes for de-stressing events so I thought it was a good idea

"We got both Oriel and Queen's colleges' students involved, the charity got lots of its guide dogs along, so it was great bringing them together."

Brick from city's 'Berlin Wall' donated to museum

A BRICK from Oxford's version of the Berlin Wall is one of the first donations to a new exhibition at the Museum of Oxford.

Ann Spoke Symonds was the first person to walk from one side of Cutteslowe Wall to the other after it was knocked down on March 9, 1959.

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylormcnewspapers.co.uk

The 89 year old was given a brick from Oxford's equivalent to the Berlin Wall to mark the occasion and is handing over the piece of history for the museum's 40th anniversary exhibit.

Mrs Spoke Symonds was 23 when the two metre high wall topped with metal spikes which divided Cutteslowe Estate council housing from private houses to the west of the estate was demolished.

The retired historian from Sunnymead, said: "I waited for the first of the walls to come down and then they let me go through. I was the very first person to do so.

"It was rather a political occasion when they knocked it down and I think people were very pleased they didn't have to go around on the roads just to see their friends.

"However some of the children liked the wall as they used to play cricket and football up against it."

After Oxford City Council bought the strips of land on which the wall stood, then councillor Edmund Gibbs took a pickaxe to it.

Mrs Spoke-Symonds said it felt 'historical' to march from the housing estate side to the private housing side of the wall after it was hacked down.

She decided to donate the brick because her dad Peter Spokes helped found the Museum of Oxford in 1975.

To celebrate 40 years the museum based in Oxford Town Hall, is launching an exhibition of 40 objects showcasing personal memories of the city's residents on June 20.

Museum staff are urging residents to donate their memories of historic Oxford for the exhibition called '40 Years, 40 Objects'.

The museum's community engagement officer Antonia Harland-Lang, said: "This is a new way to bring the history of the city to life.

"We are excited to see what the people of Oxford will share."

Chemical leak at an Oxford laboratory

STUDENTS were evacuated from an Oxford laboratory after they noticed a chemical leak.

Two fire engines and 12 firefighters from Oxfordshire Fire and Rescue Service attended Clarendon Laboratory in Oxford's Parks Road last Wednesday after university students noticed a strange noxious smell and evacuated the labs.

Fire crews from Oxford city station along with a hazardous decontamination unit and specialist officers attended the scene.

The crews used breathing apparatus and fans to check nobody had been overcome and left trapped in the building.

Rewley Road fire station crew manager Ben Bishop said: "We are well versed with the hazards posed by this type of incident and conduct regular visits to ensure our information and plans are kept up-to-date.

"We worked closely with staff from the university ensuring that a swift evacuation had taken place, accurate information was supplied to us quickly to enable us to establish a cordon to prevent anyone from being affected."

Incident Commander Station Manager Simon Belcher said: "This goes to show the variety of incidents that our crews attend and the good work they do."

Museum's plea to save city's 'greatest' painting

A CAMPAIGN to keep the "greatest painting ever of Oxford" has been launched by Oxford's Ashmolean Museum.

The Ashmolean is asking for the public to help raise an extra £60 000 in order to keep JMW Turner's The High Street Oxford after raising an initial £884 000

The painting has been a part of the museum since 1997 and has been offered in lieu of £3 5m inheritance tax.

JMW Turner's 1810 oil painting depicts Oxford's High Street and is viewed of significant importance by the museum's director, Alexander Sturgis

Dr Sturgis said "The importance of keeping this beautiful painting in Oxford cannot be overstated

"The painting is the young Turner's most significant townscape and the greatest painting of the city that has ever been made."

The museum has received £550k from the Heritage Lottery Fund (HLF) a £220k grant from the Art Fund and £50k from the museum's patrons and friends from their fundraising so far

By Loughlan Campbell
loughlan@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Stuart McLeod, head of HLF South East England said "It would be unthinkable for this particular painting unique among Turner's work not to remain on public display in the city."

Stephen Deuchar Art Fund director said. "This most important picture simply must be saved by the Ashmolean we're pleased to have supported the campaign and fervently hope that anyone else who loves Turner will now do the same"

The painting was originally commissioned by Oxford print seller James Wyatt for 100 guineas

If the Ashmolean cannot acquire the painting, it will be sold on the open market

Mayor's Corner

Mayor of Wallingford

Busy June ahead for Wallingford

WALLINGFORD is a town which always seems to have lots going on but June this year is uncommonly busy even by our standards

By the time you read this Mayor's Sunday when the town comes together to greet the new mayor will be over

But we'll still be looking forward to the Blues and Beers Festival on June 12 and 13 the carnival on June 20 and our new Festival of Cycling (with an added dose of filming for Midsomer Murders) on June 21 while Rugfest takes place at the Hithercroft

This year we'll be rounding off June with a re enactment of the 17th Century Siege of Wallingford by the English Civil War Society during the final weekend of the month

The common thread in all these events – apart from everyone having a thoroughly good time – is the number of volunteers involved

That's something Wallingford is really really good at as a community getting out and giving something back.

It's not just events either While June is hugely busy, there's lots of work that goes on all year round in quiet ways from the ladies and gentlemen of our volunteer centre who offer lifts to hospital or help with shopping and the stalwarts who run the Wallingford Club where adults with learning disabilities have the best social life around

As I start my year as Mayor of Wallingford, I am very much looking forward to celebrating all those who do give something back to the town.

FREE SUPPORT EVENT IN OXFORD FOR PEOPLE WITH TYPE 2 DIABETES

DIABETES UK will run one of a national series of free educational events to provide expert advice and information for people recently diagnosed with Type 2 diabetes in Oxford in June.

People who have been living with Type 2 diabetes for longer but need to brush up on their knowledge of the condition are also welcome to attend.

Type 2 diabetes is a serious, lifelong condition which can be treated with diet, exercise, medication and/or insulin.

Healthcare profess onals will provide information on local healthcare and the services available to people with Type 2 diabetes in the area. "There is a lot of information to take in, particularly at the time of d agnosis, so these events are a great way to get detailed, expert advice in an easy-to-digest way, as well as being an opportunity to meet other people living with Type 2 diabetes.

"We hope the 'Living with Diabetes Day' will g ve people with Type 2 diabetes in the area the information and confidence they need to live well with the condition.

"There are limited places at the 'Living with Diabetes Day' in Oxford. Those interested in attending the full day event must book a place online at www.diabetes.org.uk/livwld or email livwld@diabetes.org.uk or call freephone 0345 123 2399.

Care Home Open Day 19th June 2015

The Arts & Valuing Staff

NATIONAL CARE HOME Open Day

FOR the third year running Care Home Open Day will be taking place, and this year is being held on 19th June 2015, promoting the themes of The Arts and Valuing Staff.

Supported by a group of leading care providers associations, charities and care regulators, Care Home Open Day aims to reinforce the connections care homes have across their local communities, as well as challenging misconceptions about residential care and showcasing the excellent services that are at the heart of communities across the UK

To date, Care Home Open Day has proven to be a great success and the event is growing year on year with more care homes signing up to take part each time

Professor Martin Green OBE chief executive of Care England said "Care Home Open Day is an important event to participate in. It is a great opportunity for the public to see the range of care services at the heart of their communities and for care homes to establish valuable connections "

Paul Burstow MP commented. "Care Home Open Day is a great way of demystifying care Many people have fears about care homes that are not based on experience I hope more people than ever will cross the threshold of their local care home and find out what the team are doing to deliver great care"

David Cutler Director The Barings Foundation, stated "The Baring Foundation has been focusing our arts funding on work in care homes as we believe it has the power to give meaning, purpose and joy to anyone working or living there We are delighted that this is tha theme for this year s Care Home Open Day and would like to encourage everyone to get involved "

Champions are in the city

DIVERSITY will be the word when folk rock, rock, soul and alternative country group Danny and the Champions of the World arrive at The Bullingdon this Saturday June 13.

Formed in 2007 by Daniel 'Danny' Wilson, the group have released six albums in seven years and surprisingly only one single, called 'Restless Feet', out 2010.

"I don't know which tracks we'll be performing... we will tell you when we get there," Danny joked.

"We'll do something from all the albums, maybe the odd cover, maybe a 'Grand Drive' song – we play it by ear to be honest.

"We've also been at The Bullingdon many times. The first time I ever played there was way back in the early 'Grand Drive' days in about 2090 or something.

"I remember meeting a teenage Robin Bennett at Truck Festival and Goldrush who is now in the Dreaming Spires. He was there with his dad and little did I know that years later he'd be in the very first Champs line up!

I always love playing in Oxford."

Danny Wilson (guitar and vocals), Chris Clarke (bass), Steve Brookes (drums), Free Jazz Geoff (saxophone and keyboards), Paul Lush (guitar) and Henry Senior Jnr (pedals) form the current line up of Danny and the Champions of the World.

By James Richings
jamesr@tajlermenpapers.co.uk

The group is starting a tour around the UK.

Their visit to the Cowley Road venue on Saturday will be met with a huge sigh of relief for Danny who has endured years of patience to finally reach his goal as a full time musician.

"I've been making records since I left school so I've never really had another career as such but I've done a million different things in between tours," he told to the Guardian.

"I have worked in a tattoo shop and a record shop before and I've also been a postman, a road sweeper and a painter and decorator – you name it I've done it.

"The best advice comes from all over the place but I think it generally goes along the lines of 'enjoy yourself, do your best and be a good guy'."

The eccentric musician revealed why the group have chosen to cover many different genres of music.

"I love good music or what sounds good to me. There's no genre that I prefer over others," he said.

"I love anything that floats my boat and I wouldn't shy away from the influence of any genre."

The gig starts at 7pm.

South African history hits the New Theatre

FOLLOWING on from three sell out shows at the Edinburgh Festival last year, Pietra Mello Pittman's Inala will be at the New Theatre Oxford on June 23 and 24.

By James Richings
jamesr@taylamesmagaz ne.co.uk

Put on by the Sisters Grimm Production Company Inala celebrates 20 years of democracy in South Africa with many Zulu singers and dancers taking part in the musical dance production.

Executive producer Pietra believes that the popular production which was performed at the Royal Variety Performance last year believes the show will emotionally connect with the audience.

Inala means abundance of goodwill in Zulu, Pietra said.

The songs in Inala are sung in Zulu and they tell stories of South African culture with themes that everyone can relate to like friendship romance love jealousy work, marriage and divorce."

"We also see fragments of a community life, along with the ups and the downs but we come out at the end rejoicing."

One notable feature about Inala is the inclusion of the very popular South African all male choral group Ladysmith Black Mambazo.

The group which formed in 1960 first came to the public eye after featuring on Paul Simon's 1986 album Graceland.

This catapulted the group to mainstream popularity leading to the African musicians winning four Grammy Awards in their career.

"Ladysmith Black Mambazo don't just sing in their concerts, but they also dance a very intricately choreographed Zulu dance style called Isicathamiya which is a mix of high kicks and soft rhythmical tap steps done very lightly on the balls of the toes," Pietra added.

Pietra also revealed her inspiration to create the show.

She continued: "My friend business partner and composer Ella Spira took me to see a Ladysmith Black Mambazo concert in 2009 and we were both so inspired to create a visual spectacle with them.

"They represent a culture that we here in the UK aren't perhaps so familiar with and we wanted to show that culture off in a new way.

"We both love mixing disciplines and are particularly interested in finding contemporary ways of bringing cultural traditions into the modern day through theatrical artistic productions."

Both shows at the George Street theatre start at 7.30pm.

After a short break, it's straight into the "68 comeback special" with the leather outfit performing 'One Night With You' and ending with "If I Can Dream," one of Elvis' personal favourites. The final session of the show is a two costume performance of the career defining Las Vegas shows, with all the favourites including "Suspicious Minds" and the amazing "American Trilogy" some of the best known performances.

TROUBLE's Band members aim to create an authentic show and believe they have with microphone changes including the rare Vegas Electro Voice RE15 Elvis' favourite performance mic and the iconic Shure 55 for the Rock & Roll set. This includes guitar changes and drum builds to define the musical progression throughout Elvis' career. Authentic costumes have been crafted by original designers of the King's outfits, giving the final authenticity that the band hoped for.

Projected imagery & amazing lighting make it hard to stay in your seat and not sing along or dance. Jazz trio in Summertown

SOME of the world's finest musicians are discovered in unusual places

Justin Bieber was discovered via YouTube, Matt Monroe was dubbed the 'singing bus driver' and jazz singer Catherine Sykes was discovered by her music teacher mother at their house in Yorkshire.

And it will be the latter who will be performing as part of a trio in Oxford on June 21, alongside bassist Paul Jeffries and pianist Alex Steele.

"I'm very lucky in the fact that I get to do something I love as a job," said Catherine.

"In fact it doesn't really feel like a job.

"On the day I will be singing standards and songs from the Great American Songbook. I enjoy singing good show tunes in a jazz style which include songs like 'If I were a Bell' and 'Lullaby of Broadway'.

"And I think it is important to let the audience hear the tune that was written when performing them so I think the crowd can expect to hear some songs they'll recognise."

A member of the very famous Glenn Miller Orchestra, the popular jazz singer sites Ella Fitzgerald, Doris Day and Julie London as her main influences which has helped Catherine become one of the finest jazz performers in the country.

After graduating from the Leeds College of Music, the entertainer has since travelled the globe far and wide to perform in a number of five star hotels, leading Catherine to release two albums.

Her debut album 'Signing In' was featured on Humphrey Lyttelton's 'Best of Jazz' programme on BBC Radio 2, with her second album 'Something Wonderful' also receiving positive feedback from critics.

"One of the best things when performing is that when an audience is enjoying a gig, you feed off them and perform better," she said.

"An unfortunate fact is that a lot of performers are very insecure and are often worried that they are not performing to their best, or that the audience is not enjoying it.

"As soon as you feel warmth from the crowd, you tend to relax and as a result perform better.

"The joy is infectious on both sides and the gig seems to gel better and better.

"And since the gig is on the June 21, perhaps they'll hear a couple of tributes to dads for Father's Day too."

The free gig starts at 6.30pm at the Oxford Wine Cafe in Summertown.

WHY I DON'T BELIEVE IN GLOBAL WARMING
Human-caused global warming has been making headlines for over two decades, but people's opinions often depend on what headlines they're reading. How in it that a scientific theory has become so politicised? Join us to learn Adam Levy (Nature University of Oxford; @Climate-Adam), a climate change scientist and YouTube celebrity, the key scientific evidence behind climate change, and explain why perspectives on climate change shouldn't be a matter of belief. Having appeared at the Melbourne Comedy Festival and Sydney Opera House Gala in Australia early in 2014, Reginald then made his debut in New Zealand at their Comedy Festival Opening Gala, before going on to appear in Auckland and Wellington. He then moved closer to home with his first tour of the island Europe before travelling back to his birthplace in America to film Reginald D Hunter's Songs Of The South, which is due for transmission in early 2015. BMW lifts the lid on new X1

BMW S new Xt is bigger lighter and cheaper to run than its predecessor – and soon you can decide if it is better to drive

The 2015 model is out this Autumn.

So customers have been given a teaser of what is to come

The first photos are out and the specifications published.

The one thing we are waiting for now is a price tag – other than that all important first drive

Since it launched full throttle onto the car scene in 2009, BMW s X1 compact Sports Activity Vehicle has sold more than 730 000 vehicles over the world - of which nearly 40 000 were to UK customers

Now for a closer look at its appearance.

It has robust proportions and sculpted bodywork and the front of the new X1 is defined by the large upright BMW kidney grille three section lower air intake and characteristic "four-eyed" look formed by the twin circular head lights and fog lamps

Standard specification includes LED daytime driving lights and for Xline and M Sport models with full LED headlights for low and high beam This is optional for Sport line models

REVIEW New BMW X1

By James Richings

The new car has grown most notably in height compared to its predecessor as the lateral vehicle has expanded by an extra 53mm creating extra space inside

From the side the window surfaces taper towards the rear forming a dynamic appearance and a central section rises up significantly underscoring the frontal styling

Customers will be able to choose from two non-metallic and 11 metallic exterior paint finishes while the Estoril Blue metallic shade is also offered exclusively for the M Sport model

A look inside the new X1 shows flat surfaces of the instrument panel and centre console controls are angled towards the driver

The controls located in the lower section are surrounded by high spec surfaces separated from the front passenger side by a newly designed bar

Standard specification in the UK for the new BMW X1 includes cloth seat surfaces in the colour combination anthracite/black and interior trim strips in oxide silver dark matt with accent strips in high gloss black.

Dakota leather trim in Black or 'Canberra beige can be ordered as options along with interior trim strips in fine wood matt oak grain and fine line stream

One petrol engine and three diesel options will be on offer

The new BMW X1 will be available to buy on October 24 this year

Bottas gets Williams' first podium of 2015

VALTTERI Bottas picked up Williams Martini Racing's first podium finish of the year on Sunday coming home third in the Canadian Grand Prix

The Finn had started fourth after a strong performance in qualifying and held the position in the early stages of the race

He was behind the Ferrari of Kimi Raikkonen who pitted first but promptly spun at the hairpin on his out lap costing him around 12 seconds of time

It meant that when Bottas came into the pits for his only stop he came out in front of Raikkonen and held on to third for the remainder of the race.

"We really maximised everything and I'm really happy for us as a team" said Bottas

"We had the chance to change the strategy in the middle of the race and go for one stop instead of two we knew it could be a risk but the team knew what to do and we were right

"It's great to be back in the top three and we know there are better grands prix to come because of the updates we are bringing so I can't wait for the next few races"

By Adam Flinn
adam@taylornewspapers.co.uk

Meanwhile Bottas team mate Felipe Massa recovered from problems with an underpowered car in qualifying to jump up nine places and score some solid points

Massa was forced to start 15th but made fast progress to move up the order on the harder tyres including a memorable battle with the Sauber of Marcus Ericsson

And on well used super soft tyres in the closing stages of the race he was able to overtake Pastor Maldonado's Lotus to finish in sixth place

Massa said. "After a challenging qualifying, I'm happy with how the race has gone and I've picked up some good points

"Starting 15th was always going to lead to a busy race and there was a lot of great overtaking and the car had good consistent pace

"I could have been fighting for podiums but all in all this has been a very positive weekend for the team and we should be very competitive in the next few races"

Bottas and Massa stay fifth and sixth respectively in the drivers world championship standings with 57 and 47 points

Williams are third in the constructors' standings with 104 points behind Ferrari and reigning champions Brackley based Mercedes

The next race is at the famous Red Bull Ring in Spielberg, Austria on June 21

Oxford earn fourth win

OXFORD RL broke club records after their 38-30 win over South Wales Scorpions on Sunday meant that they had secured a fourth successive home victory

The Blues home resurgance has led them to rise up the table to a respectable ninth after they secured eight points from four games at Iffley Road

Jan Newbury crossed for the scorpions after just three minutes with Paul Emanuelli nailing the conversion before Oxford's Josh Scott hit back and Louis Richard added the extras

Scorpions Andy Joy broke through to add a second for the visitors with the conversion a success before Oxford turned up the heat as Andy Matthews crossed twice with Richards converting twice

Matthews went on to complete his Oxford hat trick but Richard's kick hit a post and the visitors moved to 30 22 through Newbury

Emanuelli converted before Oxford roared back into the game as Luke Evans and Matty Blythe dived over with Richards converting Evans' try

Oxford sealed the win when Danny Thomas secured a late try and Richards kick sealed the points for the home side

Oxford University star has England backing

A UNIVERSITY of Oxford cricket star has received the backing of an England international after being named young cricketer of the year

England all rounder Moeen Ali has given advice to Tom Kohler Cadmore to put his early season troubles to the back of his mind

The 20 year old Malvern College pupil has achieved a batting average just under 23 and is yet to hit a first class century despite being named 2014 Young Cricketer of the Year by Wisden Schools

Kohler Cadmore hit 1 408 runs for Malvern College last season and Ali is backing him to be a part of the professional game for a long time

Ali said "Kohler Cadmore is a good young player to have in the side

"He's probably struggled a little bit early this season but that can happen to anybody

"He's going to score a lot of runs for Worcester and he has got so much potential to improve on

Ali believes the capacity is there for the Oxford pupil to really become a force with the Worcestershire side and said his teammate can add the quality to get them over the line

Worchestershire and England all-rounder Moeen Ali at the launch of the Royal London Gilbert cup

Welsh coach runs to raise charity funds

A LONDON Welsh community coach ran the Edinburgh marathon to raise money for charity after his younger sister was diagnosed with a rare life-threatening disease

Nat McDonald raised £2,691 for running 26 miles around Edinburgh last month for Cardiac Risk in the Young (CRY) to raise money for sister Lois who was diagnosed with a rare genetic heart condition called Brugada Syndrome

The syndrome occurs when a ventricular fibrillation (a lethal arrhythmia) in the heart can cause a very sudden death

The syndrome is also often the cause for Sudden Death Syndrome (SDS) and Nat believes that it's something that people need to be more aware about Nat said "My father has also been a sufferer of heart conditions within the last decade and my late grandfather passed away last year from a heart attack.

"All I really wanted to do is raise some money and awareness for all heart conditions but more specifically Brugada Syndrome."

The 24 year old also had to undergo a precautionary heart operation due to a medical black out where he lost consciousness which will require another operation in the future and was also diagnosed with a Bicuspid Aortic valve – a structural defect of the heart

Nat added "While this sums up the heart conditions my family have faced in the last six years it barely touches some of the difficulties my family has had to deal with."

Nat was on target to finish the marathon in four hours and 10 minutes but just a few miles before the finish line he suffered hip problems and was joined by his dad coming out to walk the last mile with him for a 5hr 10mins finishing time

He said "It was great that my dad came out to walk the last mile with me he could see I was in a lot of pain but we got it done."

London Welsh said they were very proud of Nat's feat

Super double victory for veteran Plato

JASON Plato displayed a masterclass in touring car racing as he secured two first place finishes at Oulton Park circuit at the weekend.

Plato's 91st and 92nd series victories were followed by a fifth place finish in race three which takes him to first in the British Touring Car Championship with 157 points

The Team BMR driver secured a pole position for race one and commanded the track with complete precision and speed as he fought off rival driver Honda Yuasa Racing's Gordon Shedden through the whole race

Race two's pole was also secured in immaculate fashion and Plato became the first driver to win twice in a weekend with 75kg of ballast on board this season.

Plato held his lead from the start but Shedden came roaring back in the final lap though the Oxford driver held on for his second win of the weekend.

The 47 year-old's run with the Dunlop soft tyres in race three led to a fifth place finish and Plato now commands a three-point championship lead over rival Sheddon.

The championship leader said after the races "I love this place

"We had real confidence after our test here, we've got the car where we want it and when you rein the groove with the car and circuit, it makes the job a whole lot easier."

O'Dowda shines as Hodgson watches on

• Oxford United winger Callum O'Dowda (26) takes on England U21 players Danny Ings and Will Hughes

OXFORD United's promising winger Callum O'Dowda enjoyed his week away with the Republic of Ireland under 21s as he started both games for his county in friendlies against the England C and U21 side

O'Dowda played 70 minutes in Ireland's 2-1 defeat in the game against England C in Galway before playing the full 90 in a behind closed doors friendly 3-1 defeat against the England U21 side at St George's Park.

O'Dowda put in an impressive shift against the England youngsters on Friday's game as his looping header in the first half just went over the bar

The young winger continued his good form into the second half and Ireland pulled a goal back after O'Dowda sent in a deep cross that was met on the volley by Sean Long.

England manager Roy Hodgson and the senior England side also watched the 20 year old in the entertaining contest.

O'Dowda said "It was a good few days and another fantastic experience to be involved in the games

We worked very hard in the second game and I really enjoyed it. It would be great to be involved again when the next squad is announced."

Chapman steers himself to points at Oulton Park

OXFORD'S 15 year-old motor racing talent Matt Chapman secured another two vital points in the Ginetta Junior Championship's fourth event at the Oulton Park Island Circuit on Sunday

Chapman secured a best finish of seventh in his first race which equalled his season-best finish.

The Oxford racer had steered his Ginetta G40 to a top-eight finish in the earlier seventh race as he bids to enter the championship top 10

Chapman lapped second fastest overall during testing on Friday and placed in the top 10 during practice on Saturday morning securing a third row start by qualifying in fifth

The Total Control Racing driver had a bad start in the first race as he dropped to 10th shortly after the start before pushing himself into eighth which he held on to throughout the race

Chapman started race two in eighth and fought to secure a seventh place finish against rival drivers edging him wide

The youngster said "It was a real fight in the first race to just try and get through and make up places

Race two was solid I actually got a pretty good start but got hung out to dry outside the first corner

Overall it's been a strong weekend and there were some good battles out there.

Oxford lose controversially in tense Horspath thriller

OXFORD were narrowly beaten by a single wicket in an enthralling encounter with rivals Horspath at Roman Way

The encounter was a heated contest between the teams at the bottom of Division 1 and after Oxford hit 198-8 Horspath needed 11 runs to win with tickets left in the final over

However the umpires then caused controversy after they ruled that Oxford had failed to bowl their 50 overs in the allotted time of three hours and 20 minutes handing over six penalty runs to Horspath from the ends of their innings

Oxford started well after new signing and opening batsman Ryan Carter hit a solid 33 on his debut before Stewart Laudat knocked 60 from 78 deliveries and Sean Thornton went on to hit 52

Horspath's Robbie Eason stroked 43 to get Horspath up and running whilst Adam Mould knocked a reasonable 35

Oxford spinner's Shanu Mandia and Harvey Eltham caused the visitors plenty of trouble but in the final over, Pat Foster hit a four believing Horspath had secured the win

Although the umpires ruling that the final three balls had to be re-bowled it confirmed Oxford's defeat who remain bottom of the table.

Murray said "We are delighted to have captured Adi. We have had our eye on him for a while He is somebody who has some tremendous attributes and will add another dimension to our attack

"He is hungry eager to prove a point and I cannot wait to work with him '

Yussuf signed for Burton Albion following a successful trial period in August 2011 notching two goals in two seasons before he signed on for Lincoln City in 2013 which saw him have spells at Gainsborough Trinity Harrogate Town and Histon FC all on loan in the 2013/14 season
